Sadly it's the British that seem to be leading the way to fight for our U.S. constitutional rights... Lincoln Memorial Evacuated As F4J Breach US Security:

Two Fathers 4 Justice activists from the UK today scaled the Lincoln Memorial in Washington DC in the United States at approximately 1.30pm local time.

The activists scaled the memorial by dressing as tourists and the scaling the memorial by hand before unveiling themselves in Captain America and Batman costumes as well as displaying a banner that read 'For the Fathers of the Nation: Fathers 4 Justice has arrived www.F4JUSA.com'

Armed Capitol Police and the FBI quickly evacuated the memorial and arrested several ground crew and tourists as scuffles on the ground ensued.

The protest marks the start of the group's US campaign.

Here's another article on the arrival of F4J...

Fathers4Justice Has Arrived: Monument Evacuated As F4J Breach US Security at Lincoln Memorial Washington, DC — Two British activists from Fathers 4 Justice UK have just landed on the Lincoln Memorial. Jolly Stanesby (aka Batman) and Mike Downes (aka Captain America) have climbed The Lincoln Memorial because of Abraham Lincoln's connection with the abolition of slavery.

The activists scaled the memorial by dressing as tourists and the scaling the memorial by hand before unveiling themselves in Captain America and Batman costumes as well as displaying a banner that read "For Fathers of the Nation: Fathers 4 Justice has arrived".

This humanitarian mission is designed to save children and parents from the ravages of the for-profit divorce industry that terminates the parental rights of thousands of Americans daily. Many believe these courts and actions are unconstitutional, and much is being done to seek federal intervention.
